

I BELIEVE

I believe, I do believe in god
I also do believe he cannot be seen or heard
For can only be felt deep inside
But I do believe, we can believe in him
I believe we are operated from above the sky
Just the way a puppeteer does from behind
The strings that puppeteer uses
Is just the thoughts and actions of us beings
For we should believe he hasn't the power to change fate
Just as a puppeteer changes the story
Like the puppets displayed inside a box
The difference still exists, the puppeteer earns money
We beings can display it as our token of gratitude
The money must be earned before the show ends
The same road of gratitude should be given before our trip ends.

Confidence, will, ability and hard work
These values can change any man's fate
And they will surely change mine.

Something you should never leave

What if someone doesn't believe in himself?

They'll always be stuck in themselves

I believe in myself

I believe I will get up every time I fall

I believe life is like an edge of a sword

I believe I can cross hurdles at any cost

And be myself thinking that I still have belief

In myself to cross the ocean abroad

I BELIEVE

Believe is not just a word
It's the world
Like a free bird
It's something I've heard

What is belief?
It's something I'll never leave
Search for believe?
You'll have to sieve

I believe the stars will shine high
You'll have to aim for it with a sigh
Let the knots be tied
Behind the clouds I hide

I BELIEVE

Many desires in just one life
But I believe I can achieve them all
Even though they are higher than the clouds
I Believe I can reach such heights

Failures cannot stop me,
And so I do not stop them coming
Because I believe that
They inculcate enthusiasm in me to reach my goals

Many spectators to see you fall
But only a few to see you rise up
No matter what others say,
If I believe I can do it, then I can

I BELIEVE

I believe that god governs the earth
Yet, he is unknown to many from their birth
Hence he made parents, his true incarnation
Nothing but the supreme truth, ultimate relations

They are the ones who teach us to walk
They are the ones who teach us to talk
They are the ones who will sacrifice anything for us
And we are the ones whom they will bless

They want to see our faces streaked with happiness and wonder
They are the ones who calm the never ending storm
Thank you God for giving such wonderful parents to us
Who both live and die for us

I BELIEVE

Among the shadows in a dark, desolate land
Where mayhem and chaos walk hand in hand
Where seldom is seen the break of light
Lives our hero-a soldier-born to fight.

He never gave in, nor did he give up
He strode ahead to fight the dark
But against forces, so evil-so corrupt
Even a war seemed like a walk in the park

He went around spreading belief
To the innocent, he brought relief
There were times, when he was tempted
But he chose to stick to his righteousness
And the truth is, this fight's in all of us
Against the light and dark, such a buzz
The good shall win or so I choose to believe
Or so , I believe

I BELIEVE

My reckless beliefs and prejudices
My preconceived notions and my faithful judgements

Its glory, a chapter of defects
Now my memorabilia have become must
And my beliefs, just too rusty.

Finally, I'm mused in my dreams and fiction
For ignorance got bliss along with my rebellious conviction
I neither believe nor I tell this with relief
That the world is built on a lie, a pure myth
