PREPARATION

As I cycle through streets,
I can feel the heat of the air on my hair.
The farmers are loading their goods,
And the students are seen book and pencil in hand.
From the little ant carrying crumbs of bread,
To the farmers ploughing their fields,
and the teachers solving the numerous questions of the students...
Everyone seems to be getting ready to welcome
Spring- the season of colours !!!

PREPARATION

It's that time of the year
With thoughts of exams drawing near.
Long nights and drowsy mornings
Despite a parent's warnings...
Books read, reread to the core
Until one's eyes are painfully sore.
Confidence, anxiety, dread, and hope
Mixed feelings covered up completely with a cloak.
But despite the doubt, good spirit remains
To help us control our life with reins.

Huge fields to be tilled, a new crop to be sown
Fertilizer to spray, no time to delay.
Prayers to be made, loans to be paid,
Wishes for rain and sunshine
Are made to God as a humble request.
Through all the worry, there is still hope
To help the farmer quietly go forth.
As Spring comes, and brings new work to be done
Jumbled feelings inside make it hard not to run...
But one feeling burns brighter than all the rest
That is hope; with it, one can cross any test.

PREPARATION

To the farmer, the world is a farm.
He neither worries about it nor fears the future.
Despite the cold, lightning or rain...
Growing grain in a respectable world, some farmers say,
Some say, "Its a food river...."
Mother Earth, I love you.

All hope sown, the sun of happiness will rise
Spring has blossomed, colour, the essence of life.
Hey farmers, you are the ideal of all.
Hard work is your goal.

As students, let's prepare to go to school
Await new days and new hopes,
Let's sow new seeds in our minds,
And pray that the Almighty blesses the tree of knowledge...

PREPARATION

Exams, Exams, Exams... they come every year
They want the students to study, revise and learn year after year!
Hey! What's up?
It's exams, time to gear up,
This is what we hear year after year!!!

A long pencil crawls around the page
That scratches along the blank page
Here's the time where we bury our noses into the books
Marks have to be gained by hook or crook.

Elders say, 'Take it easy
There's no need to stress!'
Just as I'm about to be nice and breezy
They say, 'Ninety-five and nothing less.'

In the end the result approaches beautiful,
Hearts are filled with joy and happiness.
We get to enjoy our recreation
For that good preparation!
