It had all finally come to an end,
The battle they had waited for,
And he stood there,
Done and dusted after the war,
With his head held high,
Sturdy and strong,
He had finally proved himself,
When people failed to believe him,
He stood tall with confidence,
Filled with the pride of his people and his nation,
It was the end,
When the sword stood boldly by his side.

SOLDIERS

A soldier is whom who protects the nation,
With shots to the nation which exits the nation,
Soldier shall provide for his family,
Extending beyond all boundaries to provide for their needs.

He is who protects his sister,
Ever ready to fight giving away his life,
They are those to protect the world,
Souls thrown out through bullet.

For, a soldier is a man who stands on that line,
And is brave to stand there ,
Protecting Billions,
And has learnt to protect all throughout his life.

SOLDIERS

My land's,
brook flows, watering but fearless,
Hitler soil will,
Trees grow, hard but in all softness,
Like from rest the sun, birds from rest will,
Chirruping show, shiver their wings like that soldier,
Like his death,
A hundred summers and winters will see,
By all these know I,
A life,
A Soldier lives, another gives,
Another gives, another lives..... and on and on.....

Blessed soldiers we have,
Blessed is our Motherland,
Then comes death ,
That shall see.

Come noon and sun come,
A soldier shall not rest,
The soldier shall not enemy rest in his land,
The soldier shall not burn.

So men fear not,
Not a wind will turn a storm,
This country which is proud of the men it has,
Who shall stand as a storm against the enemy.

SOLDIERS

The soldier sighed as he remembered ,
The never ending fight,
The blood, sweat and tears along the way,
Were more than just a sight.

He had never wanted to be so violent,
Not at all ever,
All he wanted was to be someone,
That he could be proud of forever.

He knew it wouldn't be easy,
But his strong will,
To achieve his goal,
Something he'd die for and kill.

Life is for you,
The least thing you care about,
You don't care about this for,
You care about the lives of a billion.

You love the smile of a billion,
You smell the victory of your sacrifice,
You love the sacrifice that you are.....,
You are loved by billions for that sacrifice.

You are the honour of the nation,
You are the pride of the nation,
You are the torchbearer of happiness of the nation,
You are the nation.

There stood tall the Himalayan Range,
Spawning from Arunachal to Kashmir,
So do our Jawans ,
Both being deployed for the Integrity of this nation.

Both stood tall,
When the nation needs,
Wherein one soldier decided to shoulder the Economy,
The other decided to shoulder upon the lives of billions.

Both would kill anyone,
Who tries to do anything to their people,
Both stay strong symbiotically between themselves,
Making billions happy with their sacrifice.
