

My First Day Again

It is my first day of school again!

And I won't take any pain,

For it will be fun

Even if I have to run.

I will play with my friends

When the class ends,

I will play tennis

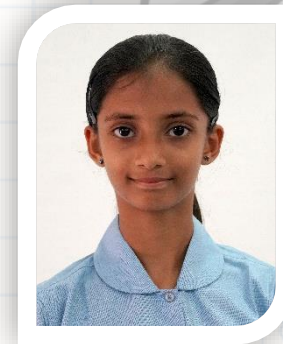

And all my energy I will spend.

I will finish my lunch

And have some fruit punch.

I will go home with my homies

With lot of happy memories.

My First Day Again

My new life,
My new friends,
My first day at school,
In this wonderful school

My new teachers,
My new sports,
My first day at school,
In this wonderful school
It is my best day!
In this school...

My First Day Again

We marched into school,
All of us thinking cool
The orientation was great
After it, we ate.

The next day was the same,
All of us playing games
Then bye-bye time it was
To say goodbye we take a pause.

I thank my teachers for reminding me ,
How fantastic the year will be.

My First Day Again

The first day in school,
Was very very cool.

I met new friends,
And had a lot of fun.

The time past by,
I did not even realise,
All day long,
I had a ball of a time.

I was very scared,
But I got settled in .
Right where I wanted,
To be adjusted in.

My First Day Again

Walking round the corner I go to school,
With new friends to meet my life turned cool.
Singing and humming I go for a stroll,
Walking through the corridors I banged on a pole.

Swimming, Cricket and what not?
Thinking skills and a very strong thought
Adding numbers, from one to ten,
Learning how a lion lives in his den.

Sometimes I feel sad,
So I write down my feelings on a pad.
Playing songs on a piano,
While eating a sandwich filled with mayo.

Speaking Tamil, "Vanakkam sir".
"Brilliant" said my teacher.
Probably then I asked, "What's it for sir?"
For which I was labelled an Intelligent lad.

My First Day Again

On my first day of school I cry,
Its hard to control, yet I try.
Before, I was a baby who used to drool,
But now I am a kid who already joined school.

We have friends who are always the same,
Now that we start a new game.
I was a baby who never eats food,
Just now I understand that's not good.

When I was a baby I was amazed by fountains,
Look at me now climbing mountains.
I was a baby who believed in fantasy
Now even the exams are really easy

My First Day Again

Once again the time has come,
My first day of school, filled with fun,
Brimming with excitement as many have told.
Jumping and shouting through the hallways we strolled.

I remember the very first day,
The memories I hold.
I keep them in my heart,
Like the shining gold.

But now it's time to study and learn,
Knowledge and intellect is all I can earn.

My First Day Again

Again it's my first day,
I feel I'm a needle in a stack of hay.
One day in the school,
Other day in the school.

Maths, English, Computer
I like them all.
Some are very tall,
And some are even small.

It's my first day in the school,
A school is like a stool in our life.
Which gives us a push,
Whenever we need help.

My First Day Again

The first day was the best day.
From lovely teachers,
To curious students,
I enjoyed all the moments.
From enormous ground,
To the swimming pool,
I enjoyed every moment.
From the elated staff
To the flavoursome food.
